

Interested in greening up your garden with native plants, expanding your garden, or incorporating more sustainable practices into your home landscape?

Join OSU Extension Portage County Master Gardener Volunteers as they share their passion for gardening. Whether an avid gardener or the gardening impaired, walk away with the knowledge and tools to green up your home and your community.

MARCH Sustainable Gardening Series:

4th Beginners Gardening 9am-noon

For those who have never gardened before or have tried and failed, this workshop will provide basic information and answers to start your year off right.

11th Intermediate Gardening 9am-3pm

A deeper look into your garden by learning how to read a soil test, use cover crops, maximize soil health, save seeds, choose perennials vs annuals, and find the correct perennial vegetables and fruits for your needs.

18th Advanced Gardening 9am-3pm

Look deeper into your landscape by learning about natives, hybrids, and heirlooms, backyard chickens, permaculture, composting and mulch, and no-till and companion planting.

APRIL 8th Landscaping With Natives 10am-noon

This program is for everyone interested in learning about how to add function and beauty to your landscape through the use of native plants.

MAY 13th Plant Sale 9am-2pm

Support the Master Gardener programs while stocking your garden. A variety of plants will be available, including herbs, vegetables, hanging baskets, and native plants.

JUNE 10th Composting A to Z 10am-noon

Includes a presentation and hands-on demonstrations of various composting strategies and methods.

JULY 17th Beekeeping 6-8pm

From start to honey: Learn the best management practices to keep your hives producing.

OCTOBER 16th* Garlic Galore 6-8pm

Join us for an informative look at the botany and history of garlic - learn how to plant, harvest, and store this kitchen staple.

RSVP to 330.296.6432 or christensen.227@osu.edu

Unless otherwise noted, all programs are at the Soil and Water Conservation District
6970 State Route 88 Ravenna, OH 44266

*Program at OSU Extension office located at: 705 Oakwood St. Ravenna, OH 44266

